

Art/Creativity/Reference

Wouldn't you love to have unlimited creative potential?

Imagine never having another creative block again. Imagine enormous growth in your creative abilities. Imagine being able to see anything, even boredom, as a source of artistic inspiration. Get deep into the creative flow that is available to all of us. The possibilities are endless.

Inside this book you will find valuable information, new ideas you can use, different ways of seeing things and step-by-step processes, with over 300 exercises designed for the multiple purposes of seeing, thinking, doing and/or awakening your own creative potential.

You will learn about:

- Serious play, creative guidelines, and using words to stimulate creativity.
- The nature of creativity, the raw visual elements, abstraction and realism.
- Translating ideas from one medium to another.

You will see how easy it is to find inspiration all around you:

- In nature and the urban world.
- In your household items and daily routines.
- With the visual elements, as well as music, sound and language.
- From events in your life, from your dreams and various states of being.
- Even from the state of being uninspired.

Alexandria Levin has been painting since 1975, and exhibiting since 1981. Over the years, she has been deeply involved with most phases of both the business and creative ends of being an artist. Hopelessly organized, outrageously creative, naturally perceptive and always ethical, her main goal in writing this book is to change and improve things in general for all artists.
